Our First Meeting is January 12, and we want to see you there! When we are together in a meeting or a workshop, we inspire one another to a higher level.

Try something new in the coming year. Remember it is the process that makes our hearts sing more than the product. Try using acrylics, collage, a different approach to a subject, different colors than you normally reach for, and see what happens to your creative urge.

November 17, 2011

The Green Country Watercolor Society meets on the second Thursday of each month at 9:30 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Broken Arrow, 121 W. College. Visitors to our meetings and programs are welcome.
